WARRANTED DEEDS FOR SALF:

DAILY GAZETTE.

The Richmond Whig on General Mc-Olelian,

While General McClellan, remarks the New York Evening Post, was at the head of the Potomac army, the rebel journals always spoke of him with a great pretence of admiration. They used to assure the world that Gen. McClellan was the only man they were afraid of—the only Yankee general whom they thought to be possessed of any genius.

These opinions were often cited by Gen. McClellan's admirers. Now, however, when this officer is displaced from the army, and when there is no likelihood that he will ever return to command, the rebel journalists come out with their real opinions of his merits as a military officer.

From the Richmond Whig, April 21.

"THE LATE GEORGE B. M'CLELLAN, "Young Napoleon is dead-dead beyond his dismissal he was the pet object of democratio sympathy and conservative sympathy; but now even Beast Butler has grander ovations than he. His name is seldom heard among men. He is no more.

"A review of his career from the time he claimed Rosegrans' laurels in the little affair of Rich Mountain down to the battle of Antietam, would be instructive to the nation of liars who accepted him at his own lying valuation, and discarded him because his falsehoods, gigantic as they were, produced no visible impression upon the rebellion. It might also profit the confederacy to trace in the career of this braggari the overruling power which has never failed to darken the counsels of the wicked and to cause all things to work together for good in behalf of the just cause. Nothing is easier to prove that the elevation of McClellan to the position of commander-in-chief of the Yankee army was all that was needed, after the election of Lincoln, to insure our independence. The recital of a few facts will show how greatly we are indebted to him.

"In October, 1861, he had 180,000 men and the most overwhelming array of field artillery that had ever been seen upon this continent. Before him was an army of 40, 000 confederates, occupying Mason's and Munson's Hill, and defiantly daring him to come out of his fortifications. The roads were good and weather splendid, he had but to advance in force to gain an easy victory-so, at least, thought his master Lincoln. But he knew his men were cowards. and he was afraid of his reputation. He did not want to fight; he sought merely to push us from one position to another by dint of enormous numbers—bence the flank movement by way of Leesburg, which ended so horribly, and benumbed him with fright for three months. "Driven by an imperative order to advance again, in spite of the winter mud, he entered the entranched camp at Manas-

"He shipped round to the Peninsula. taking 112,000 men with him. Magruder opposed him with but 7,500 men, kept him in check and forced him to the use of the spade and pick, his favorite weapons. He made siege, and in due time occupied our deserted lines. The battle of Williamsburg followed. His advance was whipped by Johnson's rear guard, but owing partly to the ignorance of the country and to the had handling of some of our troops he was enabled to gain enough advantage on one wing to put some conceit into his men.-He acknowledged, however, at one time it looked as if the Bull Run rout would be enacted again. "After this battle an event occurred which has been forgotten, but deserves to be recalled. A confederate surgeon, left in charge of the wounded, told McClellan that his gunboats might possibly reach-Richmond, but that his infantry never would. The little Napoleon smiled, as if in pity of the surgeon's ignorance. The surgeon told him further, that the abolitionists were making a tool of him, and that they would throw him aside, proclaim a general emancipation of negroes, and put an abolitionist in his place. McClellan replied, 'That he was in no fear of the abolitionists as long as he had command of that army.' 'But,' he added, 'if they do throw me aside and set the negroes free, I shall go to Europe, and cease to have

"How literally the surgeon's predictions have been fulfilled! McClellan has been kicked out of office; the insurrection proclamation has been issued; Hooker, a pure-blooded abolitionist, has command of the army of the Potomac; and it has not been two weeks since McClellan, in a public speech, arged the people to sustain Lincoln. How debased the creature is! Why is he not in Europe, and why does he longer live here, except in hopes of a new appointment under the abolition despotism? Young Napoleon through the narrative of his career. THE YANKEE MIGHT HAVE TAKEN RICHMOND AFTER THE BATTLE OF SEVEN PINES, WHEN OUR PORCES WERE IN CONFUSION. AFTER THE BATTLE OF HAN-OVER COURT HOUSE HE MIGHT HAVE DONE THE SAME TRING. AFTER THE BATTLE OF

ern Virginia secured his elevation. His reputation was founded on lies. In lies he towered, and under lies he is lost—crushed. How fortunate for us that he was chosen chief of the Yankee army. With the immense numbers of his command, an officer of truth, enterprise and daring would have pushed us sorely; but he was in awe of his pushed us sorely; but he was in awe of his dishonest reputation. His lies made him A sale by Land from the first day to the less to the le a coward, and from the first day to the last of his military career, he did not dare, on a single occasion, to expose himself to fire. A mendacious, dastardly boaster, he perished so unmanfully that the ridiculousness of his last moments destroys every vestige of obligation conferred by his vainglorious

April 7th, 1869, WARRANTED DEEDS FOR SALE DAILY GAZETTE.

The Richmond Whig on General Mo. Olellan.

While General McClellan, remarks the New York Evening Post, was at the head of the Potomac army, the rebel journals always spoke of him with a great pretence of admiration. They used to assure the world that Gen. McClellan was the only man they were afraid of-the only Yankee general whom they thought to be possessed of any genius.

These opinions were often cited by Gen. McClellan's admirers. Now, however, when this officer is displaced from the army, and when there is no likelihood that he will ever return to command, the rebel journalists come out with their real opinions of his merits as a military officer. From the Richmond Whig, April 21.

"THE LATE GEORGE B. M'CLELLAN. "Young Napoleon is dead-dead beyond resurrection. In the flesh he may still walk the earth, but in spirit, in power, in the hope of glory he is defunct. It is a noteworthy fact that the ulaloos and hulla-baloos over this person have ceased in Yankeeland. For two or three menths after his dismissal he was the pet object of dem-ocratic sympathy and conservative sympathy; but now even Beast Butler has grander ovations than he. His name is seldom heard among men. He is no more.

"A review of his career from the time he claimed Rossgrans' laurels in the little affair of Rich Mountain down to the battle of Antietam, would be instructive to the of Antietam, would be instructive to the nation of liars who accepted him at his own lying valuation, and discarded him because his falsehoods, gigantic as they were, produced no visible impression upon the rebellion. It might also profit the confederacy to trace in the career of this braggart the overruling power which has never failed to darken the counsels of the wicked and to cause all things to work together, for good in cause all things to work together for good in behalf of the just cause. Nothing is easier to prove that the elevation of McClellan to the position of commander in chief of the Yankee army was all that was needed, after the election of Lincoln, to insure our inde-the election of Lincoln, to insure our inde-pendence. The recital of a few facts will show how greatly we are indebted to him.

"In October, 1861, he had 180,000 men and the most overwhelming array of field artillery that had ever been seen upon this continent. Before him was an army of 40,000 confederates, occupying Mason's and Munson's Hill, and defiantly daring him to come out of his fortifications. The roads were good and weather splendid, he had but to advance in force to gain an easy vic-tory—so, at least, thought his master Lin-coln. But he knew his men were cowards, and he was afraid of his reputation. did not want to fight; he sought merely to push us from one position to another by dint of enormous numbers - hence the flank vance again, in spite of the winter mud, he entered the entrenched camp at Manassas only to find it a mass of surrounding

"He shipped round to the Peninsula, taking 112,000 men with him. Magrader opposed him with but 7,500 men, kept him in check and forced him to the use of the made siege, and in due time occupied our deserted lines. The battle of Williamsburg followed. His advance was whipped by Johnson's rear guard, but owing partly to the ignorance of the country and to the bad handling of some of our troops he was enabled to gain snough advantage on one wing to put some conceit into his men.— He acknowledged, however, at one time it looked as if the Bull Bun rout would be enacted again.

"After this battle an event occurred which has been forgotten, but deserves to be recalled. A confederate surgeon, left in charge of the wounded, told McClellan that his gunboats might possibly reach Richmond, but that his infantry never would. The little Napoleon smiled, as if in pity of the surgeon's ignorance. The surgeon told him further, that the abolitionists were making a tool of him, and that they would throw him aside, proclaim a general emancipation of negroes, and put an abolitionist in his place. McClellan replied, 'That he was in no fear of the abolitionists as long as he had command of that army.' 'But,' he added, 'if they do throw me aside and set the negroes free, I shall go to Europe, and cease to have anything to do with this war.'

"How literally the surgeon's predictions have been fulfilled! McClellan has been kicked out of office; the insurrection proclamation has been issued; Hooker, a pure-blooded abolitionist, has command of the army of the Potomac; and it has not been two weeks since McClellan, in a public speech, urged the people to sustain Lincoln. How debased the creature is! Why is he not in Europe, and why does he longer live here, except in hopes of a new appointment under the abolition despotism?
"Space will not permit us to follow Young Napoleon through the narrative of his career. The YANKES MIGHT HAVE TAKEN RICHMOND AFTER THE BATTLE OF SEVEN PINES, WHEN OUR PORCES WERE IN CONFUSION. AFTER THE BATTLE OF HAN-OVER COURT HOUSE HE MIGHT HAVE DONE THE SAME THING. AFTER THE BATTLE OF Antietam, the same.

"In the report of the hattle he convicts himself of falsehood in the most glaring manner. He excuses himself for not renewing the battle the morning of the 18th by saying his losses were so great, and there was so much disorganization in some of the commands, that he did not think it proper, especially as he was sure of the arrival that day of 15,000 fresh men. He happens to recollect the return of his enemy, Hooker's corps, viz: 35,000 men for duty, and four days after the same corps showed 13,500. Yet after this admission of loss and disorganization, he closes by claiming a great victory, with a capture of 13 guns, 39 colors, 15,000 small syms, and 6,000 prisoners.

"His bombastic dispatches from West ern Virginia secured his elevation. His reputation was founded on lies. In lies he neered, and under lies he is lost-crushed. How fortunate for us that he was chosen chief of the Yankee army. With the im mense numbers of his command, an officer of truth, enterprise and daring would have pushed us sorely; but he was in owe of his dishonest reputation. His lies made him soward, and from the first day to the last of his military career, he did not dors, on a single occasion, to expose himself to fire.

A mendacious, dastardly boaster, he perished so unmanfully that the ridiculousness of his last moments destroys every vestige of obligation conferred by his vainglorious

Capitol Enlargment.

The Great Battles. The accounts of the battles near Fredericksburg on Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, will be read with intense in terest. Our forencon's dispatches left the result doubtful, but the news this afternoon is of a more cheering character. The heights of Fredericksburg have been carried by storm, and the rebels driven out .-On Monday they were repulsed at all quarters, after making superhuman efforts, and they were surrounded by Sedgwick and Hooker, completely cut off from help from Richmond. We, therefore, confidently anticipate the capture of the whole of Lee's The Germans in the late Battle.

We very much doubt whether full accounts of the late battle will confirm the atatements that the German forces in Hooker's army acted in a cowardly manner. This is contrary to the character they have uniformly maintained during the war, and it is impossible that they should have changed so suddenly. The bravest are sometimes taken at a disadvantage and borne down by overwhelming forces. We incline to believe that the absence of Gen. Sigel has not improved the condition of parture. I have nothing to do but to wan his corps.

MURDER IN MARATHON COUNTY .- Edward A. Hale, a fur dealer, son of P. C. Hale, of Milwaukee, was murdered at Eagle River, Marathon county, on the 25th ult., by Thos. Farra, formerly of Missouri, whom Hale had employed as a guide .--They had stopped at an uncompled cabin for the night, when the murder was committed, the murderer striking his victim on the head with a hatchet, and leaving him in the cellar for dead. Hale lived but a few hours afterwards. The murderer having secured $250, made his escape, and is still at large, although vigorous efforts are being made for his arrest.

COLUMBUS, OHIO, April 30, 1863. On my arrival at Chicago I learned that through some missmanagment of the baggage master my trunk had been left at Janesville; which gave me no little uneasiness. Still I proceeded to Indianapolis. Finding more of the 22d Wisconsin paroled prisoners at that place, I proceeded to Camp Chase near Columbus, Ohio, as directed. At the latter place I found four only of the 22d Wisconsin paroled prisoners, viz: James R. Bones, orderly sergeant Co. H; James L. Reed, private Co. H.; Soren C. Eyllested, private Co. II; Edward Gleason, corporal Co. C. They are in good health. I am informed by them that the 22d boys that were captured with them on the 5th of March were all ordered to Benton Barracks, St. Louis, Missouri, except the sick who were left at Annapolis, Maryland. For the Daily Gazette Farowell !

We are going out from the house that has sheltered us so long, to make us another among strangers. The bustle is over The preparations completed for our deder through the dear old rooms, and bid them adieu forever. This has been the dearest home of my life; it sheltered the happiest years of my girlhood when life was opening before me gloriously beautiful. Here I learned the beautiful lesson rally hosts of friends in this part of the of love; here I uttered the vows which made me a wife, and here our little "sunbeam" was born. So I wander up and down the little rooms with clasped hands and tearful eyes, thinking over all the beautiful and four shots were fired at her, not a sinready to pay the following allotments: memories that have hallowed the years now the hay barge.

And now swith hushed breath and silent tread I enter a room that is a haunted chamber to me. I do not see it bare and Saturday and Sunday. Ah! that picture will never grow old or dim; my own little room!-There I wove my busy thoughts into song; there I spent the happiest hours of my life, and there, too, I met the first great sorrow that fell upon my heart. But out of the shadows dawned a light that will grow brighter and clearer, until it guides my trembling feet down through the valley of the shadow of Death. Farewell, little room, your walls are living pictures to me, some radiantly beautiful, some dark and sad, but I shall take them with me wherever I go, and they will always gleam out from memory's wall, fadeless and bright.

New York, May 4. Various rumors are affoat (probably to influence stocks) that Hooker's right wing had suffered severly on Sunday. In the absence of anything official from Washington and owing to the rigid exclusion of all dispatches from that point by the consorship, considerable credence has been gained for sensational stories, but no reports of disasters are credited. It is stated that the president has received dispatches from Hooker that he has severed the rebel communication between Bowling Green and Hanover Court House; that Slocum has captured fifteen hundred rebels, after crossing above Falmouth; that one communication with Stoneman has been cut off by rebel guerrillas, but will soon be reinstated; that he (Hooker) hopes to capture all the rebels north of the Pamunky river. All the news thus far is encouraging.

A rumor is affoat here that 8,000 rebels have been captured, but it is not from a rehable source. NEW YORK, May 4.

A Mobile telegram of the 24th ult., says: "There is no news except that a monster gunboat is completed at Montgomery, and will soon leave for Mobile to be plated and armed."

A schooner from Port Royal reports that she was boarded off Morrell's Inlet by a boat from the Monticello, which reported that Lieut. Brain had entered that inlet and destroyed two large warehouses filled with cotton; also, two large schooners, with regiment, besides the officers, arrived at | cargoes of boots, shoes, etc., for the rebels. Col Grierson has reached Baton Rouge, and when in the heart of Mississippi, and he was closely pursued, he detached two companies and sent them back to our lines, which they reached in safety. The rebels thinking this was his whole force, pursued them, and left Grierson to prosecute his work of destruction. The secesh have a report, in Memphis. that Pemberton, who is in command at Vicksburg, has been bribed by Grant to surrender the place for three million dollars, and, that in consequence, he has been chopped to pieces by his own soldiers. The battle did not close until near mid. night. During the night General Hooker changed his lines, reformed his army, and was ready for battle next day. The fight began at five o'clock and lasted six hours. At the end of that time Gen. Hooker held a very strong position, and felt perfectly safe. Washington, Sunday, May 3d, 1863 .-Reliable information has reached the city this afternoon from the army of the Potomae, going to show that a terrible engagement has been going on yesterday and to-

During the whole of Saturday the musketry and artillery firing was absolutely continuous, especially on the right, where Howard's corps was engaged.

Between midnight and three o'clock this morning, Sunday, a pontoon bridge was laid between Falmouth and Fredericksburg, and our troops, part of the sixth corps, marched over and took possession of the town, driving out the enemy. They then advanced to the fortifications upon the slopes in exactly the direction of the move by Burnside. It is reported that by noon

Our troops are behaving splendidly, and are worthy of their cause and their leader. Not a single instance of misbehavior has occurred amongst any of our regiments,-General Hooker is constantly in the thickest of the fight, and his escapes from bullets have really been miraculous.

Special to Chicago Tribune.-The situation here is unchanged. The rebels remain in force in their positions, as reported in late dispatches. It is supposed by some that their movements were intended to cover the withdrawal of forces that have been sent to oppose Dodge at Tuscumbia, and also the withdrawal of cavalry reinforcements sent to Pegram in Kentucky. Forcest and Dodge are reported by rebel papers as being engaged on the 29th, near l'uscumbia. Dodge had succeeded in taking The Chattancoga Rebel of the 1st, pub lishes Bragg's official report. It is anything (Reported Exclusively for the Dally Gazette.) MORNING DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK, May 5. The Times and Herald contain long and nteresting accounts of the proceedings of Hooker's army.

The Times correspondent states that af ter-three days' skirm; shing on both sides, the rebels on Saturday afternoon and evening attacked our left flank. Jackson with his whole corps of 40,000 men throwing himself impetuously on Howard's 11th corps, but the movement was only partially successful, fand reinforcements being promptly sent by Hooker, the rebels were handsomely checked. Howard's corps consisted of Schwarz, Steinberg and Diven's Lieut. Crosby, 4th regular battery, killed

The Times correspondence states that this corps disgracefully abandoned their rushed panic stricken towards headquarters! Our right was thus completely turned and the rebels in a fair way of doubling us up. Hooker was immediately in the saddle, and turning to the commander of his old corps, Berry, shouted, "general, throw your men-into the breach—receive the enemy on your bayonets-don't fire a shot-they can' see you." They rushed gloriously atdouble quick to the rescue, pressing forward a horrid array of glittering steel. The enemy were checked and retired to their breastworks just abandoned to Howard's corns.

The batteries were immediately massed on the crest of a hill, pouring in a terrific fire until far into the night. Gen. Pleasanton also checked a flying battery of a dozen pieces, and drew up his little brigade of cavalry with drawb sabres to protect the guns. He had them double-shotted with canister and swept the enemy's position murderously.

In this charge of the rebels, they took from the "cowardly Dutchmen," as the Times correspondent styles them, 12 pieces of cannon.

The Germans fled past Hooker's headquarters in a panic. Many members of the staff, with pistols and sabres, vainly it is not credited. endeavored to stay their flight. Sykes' regulars are picking them up.

The artillery combat continued until midnight precisely. Hooker and staff were all the time, under the severest fire.

Another correspondence to the Times dating Sunday evening, says it is reported from Howard's front that the rebels had been engaged all Friday night in cutting a road past his right, but not much attention was paid to the fact. On the afternoon of Saturday it was reported by the pickets on the right of Stoneman's division that wagons were seen moving all day in a westerly direction. Sickles, with a heavy force was sent to reconnoitre, when his advance fell in with the rear of Jackson's ar my. Sickles immediately pushed on to checkmate Jackson, and soon captured, the entire 23d Georgia regiment, 400, including officers. This movement of Sickles cut Jackson's force in two, and Gen. W:lliams commenced a flank movement on the enemy's right with good prospects of success. It was supposed that Howard's corps formerly Sigel's would successfully resist Jackson's movement, but the first division assailed, Carl Schurz's, which almost instantly gave way, thousands throwing down their arms and streaming towards the headquarters. Gen. Devin's division. by the demonstration of the others, was unable to stand against the rebels, and Devine-was a second time wounded in the foot while endeavoring to rally his men.-Howard, with all his daring and resolution, could not stem the tide, and the brigades of Col. Bushbeck and (McLean !remained fighting as long as possible, retiring in good Of course this disaster compelled the recall of Sickles, who had been vigorously as work. Gen. Williams' division returned; to find a portion of his works occupied by the enemy. Sickles could not communicate with the whole of his army by the route he came, and Hooker ordered a night attack to restore communication. Ward's magistrate began to remoustrate: "Do you brigade, aided by Best's battery, made an attack at 11 o'clock at night, which was entirely successful, and in the charge made "Yes, massa, strap him razor on him someby the brigade a portion of the artillery lost by Howard was gallantly retaken. states that Sedgwick attacked the heights of Fredericksburg gallantly carrying them by storm, capturing the 16th and 18th Mississippi regiments, one company of the New Orleans Washington artillery of eight guns, and over a thousand prisoners. Gen. Gibbon's brigade planted the "stars and stripes "over the rebel works. Our less is moderate. Sedgwick afterwards drove the rebels back, and at 6 o'clock p. m. Sunday, had advanced to Brick Church, 41 miles towards Chancellorville on the plank road. Here he had a severe fight with Earl's reb. el division, reinforced by Lee, but repulsed them, taking a lot of prisoners. The enemy is now hemmed in between Hooker and Sedgwick. Advantage decidedly with us. The Herald says our loss in storming he heights of Fredericksburg was about ,400 killed and wounded.

The World's correspondent says the battle was resumed on Monday and was e most desperate affair. The rebels made a series of superhuman attacks, at all points, but were repulsed with terrific slanghter. COLUMBUS, OHIO, April 30, 1863. On my arrival at Chicago I learned that brough some missmanagment of the baggage master my trunk had been left at Janesville; which gave me no little uneasiness. Still I proceeded to Indianapolis. Finding more of the 22d Wisconsin paroled prisoners at that place, I proceeded to Camp Chase near Columbus. Ohio. as directed. At the latter place I found four only of the 22d Wisconsin paroled prisoners, viz: James R. Bones, orderly sergeant Co. H; James L. Reed, private Co. H 4 Soren C. Eyllested, private Co. H; Edward Gleason, corporal Co. C. They are in good health. I am informed by them that the 22d boys that were captured with them on the 5th of March were all ordered to Benton Barracks, St. Louis, Missouri, except the sick who were left at Annapolis, Maryland. These four were left on the way and came to Camp Chase. I learned of them that Wm. L. Utley, Col.; Wm. Bones, Adj.; --- Kellam, Capt. Co. D;

Last Night's Report.

New York, May 4. Various rumors are affoat (probably to nfluence stocks) that Hooker's right wing had suffered severly on Sunday. In the absence of anything official from Washington and owing to the rigid exclusion of all dispatches from that point by the consorship, considerable credence has been gained for sensational stories, but no reports of disasters are credited. It is stated that the president has receiv ed dispatches from Hooker that he has severed the rebel communication between Bowling Green and Hanover Court House that Slocum has captured fifteen bundred rebels, after crossing above Falmouth that one communication with Stoneman has been cut off by rebel guerrillas, but will soon be reinstated : that he (Hooker) hones to capture all the rebels north of the Pamunky river. All the news thus far is encouraging.

A rumor is alloat here that 8,000 rebels have been captured, but it is not from a reliable source. New York, May 4.

A Mobile telegram of the 24th ult., says "There is no news except that a monater gunboat is completed at Montgomery, and will soon leave for Mobile to be plated and armed."

A schooner from Port Royal reports that she was boarded off Morrell's Inlet by a boat from the Monticello, which reported that Lieut. Brain had entered that inlet and destroyed two large warehouses filled with cotton; also, two large schooners, with cargoes of boots, shoes, etc., for the rebels. CAIRO, May 4.

Gen. Sherman is still at Young's Point. On Thursday there was considerable excitement, at the mouth of the Yazoo among the boats lying there. All had steam up, and there was a great ringing of bells and blowing of whistles. It is not proper to state the movements contemplated. Our force are building a depot for stores at Stewart's Plantation, twelve miles from Duckport. Goods are nauled to that place, from whence it is thought they can be transported by water. The battle did not close until near midnight. During the night General Hooker changed his lines, reformed his army, and was ready for battle next day. The fight began at five o'clock and lasted six hours. At the end of that time Gen. Hooker held a very strong position, and felt perfectly His right rests on the Rapidan at Ely's Ford, and his left on the Rappshannock. The losses have been very heavy on both sides. The Philadelphia Inquirer of this morning has the following:

this afternoon from the army of the Potoman, going to show that a terrible engagement has been going on yesterday and to-

The brilliant manenvre by which the rebels have been flanked on both sides has been followed up by a daring conflict, in which our troops have been extremely successful.

The enemy had left this post exposed, not expecting an attack here. His troops were withdrawn to where the conflict was already raging.

Our troops are behaving splendidly, and are worthy of their cause and their leader. Not a single instance of misbehavior has occurred amongst any of our regiments.-General Hooker is constantly in the thick. est of the fight, and his escapes from bullets have really been miraculous.

MORNING DISPATCHES. NEW YORK, May 5. The Times and Herald contain long and the occupants is about $45,000. New York, May 5. Flour dull and unchanged, 6,40a6,65 er interesting accounts of the proceedings of Hooker's army.

The Times correspondent states that after three days' skirmishing on both sides, the rebels on Saturday afternoon and ever ning attacked our left flank, Jackson with his whole corps of 40,000 men throwing himself impetuously on Howard's 11th corps, but the movement was only partially successful, fand reinforcements promptly sent by Hooker, the rebels were handsomely checked. Howard's corps conisted of Schwarz, Steinberg and Diven's

The Times correspondence states that this corps disgracefully abandoned their position behind their breastworks and rushed panic stricken towards headquarters. Our right was thus completely turned and the rebels in a fair way of doubling us up. Hooker was immediately in the saddle, and turning to the commander of his old corps, Berry, shouted, "general, throw your men into the breach -receive the enemy on your bayonets-don't fire a shot-they can't see you." They rushed gloriously at double quick to the rescue, pressing forward a horid array of glittering steel. The enemy were checked and retired to their breast works just abendoned to Howard's corps.

The batteries were immediately massed on the crest of a hill, pouring in a terrific fire until far into the night. Gen. Pleasanton also checked a flying battery of a dozen pieces, and drew up his little brigade of cavalry with drawn sabres to protect the guns. He had them double shotted with canister and swept the enemy's position murderously.

In this charge of the rebels, they took from the "cowardly Dutchmen," as the Times'[correspondent styles them, 12]pieces

kerry and artiflery bring was absolutely continuous, especially on the right, where Howard's corps was engaged.

Between midnight and three o'clock this morning, Sunday, a pontoon bridge was laid between Falmouth and Fredericksburg, a road past his right, but not much attention was paid to the fact. On the afternoon of Saturday it was reported by the noon of Saturday it was reported by the pickets on the right of Stoneman's division that wagons were seen moving all day in a westerly direction. Sickles, with a heavy force was sent to reconnoitre, when his ad-vance fell in with the rear of Jackson's army. Sickles immediately pushed on to checkmate Jackson, and soon captured the entire 23d Georgia regiment, 400, including officers. This movement of Sickles ent Jackson's force in two, and Gen. Will liams commenced a flank movement on the enemy's right with good prospects of success. It was supposed that Howard's corps formerly Sigel's would successfully resist Jackson's movement, but the first division assailed, Carl Schurz's, which almost instantly gave way, thousands throwing down their arms and streaming towards the headquarters. Gen. Devin's division, by the demonstration of the others, was unable to stand against the rebels, and Devins was a second time wounded in the foot while endeavoring to rally his men.-Howard, with all his daring and resolution, could not stem the tide, and the brigades of Col. Bushbeck and McLean remained fighting as long as possible, retiring in good order.

Of course this disaster compelled the recall of Sickles, who had been vigorously at work. Gen. Williams' division returned to find a portion of his works compelled by 9 a. m. After a temporary lull, musket the enemy. Sickles could not communiroute he came, and Hooker ordered a night attack to restore communication. French's division was sent in on our right flank and soon crushed that portion of the enemy's line, and at eight o'clock sent his compliments to Hooker, stating that he had charged the rebels and was driving them before him. Four whole divisions were thrown upon Sickles, but he and his gallant soldiers held the traitors in check, taking during the day 2,000 prisoners.

Gen. Gibbon's brigade planted the "stars and stripes "over the rebel works. Our less is moderate. Sedgwick afterwards drove the rebeis back, and at 6 o'clock p. m. Sunday, and advanced to Brick Church, 4½ miles towards Chancellorville on the plank road. Here he had a severe fight with Earl's rebel division, reinforced by Lee, but repulsed them, taking a lot of prisoners. The enemy is now hemmed in between Hooker and Sedgwick, Advantage decidedly with us.

The Herald says our loss in storming the heights of Fredericksburg was about

The World's correspondent says the battle was resumed on Monday and was a most desperate affair. The rebels made a series of superhuman attacks, at all points, but were repulsed with terrific slanghter. RAILBOAD CHANGE, -The noon train on the Milwaukee and Mississippi railway now leaves for Prairie du Chien and Milwaukee at 12:10, and arrives at 1:40 P. M. WISCONSIN STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONvention. The fourth annual convention of the Wisconsin State Sunday School Union will be held in the Baptist Church, Madison, June 9th, 10th and 11th, 1863, commencing at 4 o'clock Tuesday, and closing Thursday evening. Every pastor, superintendent and teacher in the state, is affectionately invited to be present, and it is most earnestly hoped that in no event will any school fail to be represented by at least one delegate. It is confidently expected that this be the largest and most interesting Sunday school convention that has ever been held in Wisconsin. Messrs. R. G. Pardee, E. T. Huntington, and several other prominent friends of the cause, are delegates to it from New York, while the fact that the Ohio and Illinois conventions are held the last weeks of May and first of June respectively, thus forming with our own a chain of conventions, will doubtless lead many eastern Sunday school men to avail themsolves of the opportunity of being present. Invitations have also been extended to Rev. T. M. Eddy, D. D., of Chicago, Rev. B. W. Chidlaw, of Cincinnati, and several ether of the most attractive and eloquent Sunday school speakers in the country. Arrangements have been made with the various railroad companies, by which delegates paying full fare going to the convention, will be entitled to a free pass from the state secretary on their return. Pastors and superintendents will please read this call in their respective churches and schools, the first Sunday after its recoipt, and also two successive Sundays immediately previous to the convention.

DUPREE & GREEN'S MINSTRELS,-This troupe entertained a large audience last night. As musicians and vocalists few troops surpass them, while all their jokes and "cons" are noted for their originality The hits at the government and the condust of the war are rich and pointed .--Green's "mocking bird song," with imitations, is approachable, and its rendition: called out a rousing encore. Charley Reynolds and Lew Benedict drew great applause in their peculiar line of Ethiopian delineations, and were enthusiastically encored. The performance of Commodore Fore and Colonel Small, the littlest people in the world, created much amusement. J. M. BURGESS, Postmaster. SANITARY STORES AT THE DEPOT-There are now at the depot in this city four boxes addressed to Sergeant Evans, two boxes to D. D. Bemis, one box to Edward Ruger and one to Lieut. M. Bowerman. These boxes are filled with contributions for the 13th regiment, and were placed in care of A. P. Aldrich, a member of Co. A, who promised to take charge of them and deliver them, but who neglected to do so .--Some provision should be made in relation to them by the persons interested—as contributors or intended recipients of their contents.

REPORTED FOR DUTY .- John H. Wingate left this city to-day for St. Louis to report to Paymaster Bailey as clerk to that officer. Mr. Wingate has been an resident of this city for the last ten years, and during that time has been employed in various capacities requiring fidelity and ability .-For several years he was teller in the banking house of J. P. Hoyt & Co., and discharged his duties in the most satisfactory manner. There are few young men as worthy of confidence and esteem as John H. Wingate, and Paymaster Bailey might have looked long and far without finding his equal for the position he has given him. A Snow Squall .- The weather to day has been diversified by a lively snow squall. The flakes were as white and more numerour than the fruit blossoms, to which they were unwelcome visitors.

RAILBOAD CHANGE.—The noon train on the Milwaukee and Mississippi railway now leaves for Prairie du Chien and Milwaukee at 12:10, and arrives at 1:40 P. M.

WISCONSIN STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL CON-VENTION.—The fourth annual convention of the Wisconsin State Sunday School Union will be held in the Baptist Church, Madison, June 9th, 10th and 11th, 1863, commencing at 4 o'clock Tuesday, and closing Thursday evening.

Every pastor, superintendent and teacher in the state, is affectionately invited to be present, and it is most earnestly hoped that in no event will any school fail to be represented by at least one delegate.

It is confidently expected that this will be the largest and most interesting Sunday school convention that has ever been held in Wisconsin. Messrs. R. G. Pardee, E. T. Huntington, and several other prominent friends of the cause, are delegates to it from New York, while the fact that the Ohio and Illinois conventions are held the last weeks of May and first of June respectively, thus forming with our own a chain of conventions, will doubtless lead many eastern Sunday school men to avail themselves of the opportunity of being present. Invitations have also been extended to Rev. T. M. Eddy, D. D., of Chicago, Rev. B. W. Chidlaw, of Cincinnati, and several other of the most attractive and eloquent Sunday school speakers in the country.

Arrangements have been made with the various railroad companies, by which delegates paying full fare going to the convention. will be entitled to a free pass from the state secretary on their return.

Pastors and superintendents will please read this call in their respective churches and schools, the first Sunday after its receipt, and also two successive Sundays immediately previous to the convention.

JUST IN TIME. -- On hand a fine assortment of pears, plums, grape vines, dahlias, evergreens, &c., in fine order, and as cheap as the cheapest, at Belle Cottage Nursery. GEO. J. KELLOGG. 12d.

DUPRES & GREEN'S MINSTRELS .- This troupe entertained a large audience last night. As musicians and vocalists few troops surpass them, while all their jokes and "cons" are noted for their originality The hits at the government and the conduet of the war are rich and pointed .-.Green's " mocking bird song," with imitations, is approachable, and its rendition called out a rousing encore. Charley Reynolds and Lew Benedict drew great applause in their peculiar line of Ethiopian delineations, and were enthusiastically encorec. The performance of Commodore Fore and Colonel Small, the littlest people in the world, created much amusement. The minetrels perform again to-night at Lappin's Hall, positively for the last time.

The name of Capt. Alexander Gorion, Jr., company K, seventh Wisconsin regiment, is reported killed at the crossing of the Rappahannock in front of Fredericksburg. Capt. Gardon resided at Beloit.

THE SALE.—The confirmation of the sale of the western division of the La Crosse road, has been having a hearing in the U.S. court to day, and when we were there is was likely to occupy the attention of the court for several days yet.—Milwaiikee Wisconsin of the 4th.

To Horse Owners.

SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT FOR DR. SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT FOR HORSES is unrivaled by any, in all cases of Lamences, arising from Sprains, Bruissa or Wrenching, its effect is magical and certain. Harness or Saddie Galls, Scratches, Mange, &c., it will elso cure speedily.—Spavin and Ringhone may be easily prevented and oured in their inclipient stages, but confirmed cases are beyond the pessibility of a radical care. No case of the kind, however, is so desperate or hopeless but it may be alleviated by the Liniment, and its faithful application will atways remove the Lamences, and enable the borse to travel with comparative case.

Every horse owner should have this remedy at hand, for its timely use at the first appearance of Lamences, will effectually prevent those formidable diseases mentioned, to which all horses are liable, and which reader so many otherwise valuable horses nearly worthless.

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.
Our No. 3 machines are especially: adapted to all kinds of light and heavy LEATHER WORK,

n Carriago Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Har in Carriago Trimming. Boot and Bloce Making, mar-ness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the larg-est sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trim-mers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is, very great. The table under these machines is kinch-eslung, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread: The large machines work as fast as small ones.

Their inchers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establish ments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Bally Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair. The qualities to be looked for in a machine are restaint only of correct action of all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of michines, whose daily break it may noncorn, will find that those baying the above may noncern; will find that those baving the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow tates of speed, but last long in the finest possible work-ing order. Our machines, as made by us, will care work money with less labor than any attack.
